Important Update on Carrying Power Banks

Reminder on Carrying Power Banks Aboard Shandong Airlines

When carrying a power bank aboard, in accordance with the Dangerous Goods Transport Regulations of the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) and the requirements of civil aviation authorities, please comply with the following safety guidelines for your flight:

Before Checking In, please inspect your power bank(s) and adhere to the following rules:

1. Strictly Prohibited Items:
  - ① Power banks with a rated energy exceeding 160Wh.
  - ② Damaged power banks, or those without marked rated energy, or whose rated energy cannot be calculated based on the marked parameters.
  - ③ For domestic flights within China: power banks produced in China that lack the 3C certification mark, have an unclear 3C certification mark, belong to recalled models/batches.
2. Power banks must not be placed in checked luggage. They can only be carried in hand luggage or on your person.
3. If the power bank's rated energy is more than 100Wh but not exceeding 160Wh, it can only be carried with the prior approval of Shandong Airlines.
4. Each passenger is allowed to carry a maximum of 2 power banks.

Important Update on Carrying Power Banks

After Boarding

Please observe the following regulations:

1. Power banks must remain turned off throughout the entire flight.
2. It is strictly prohibited to use power banks to charge electronic devices or to charge the power banks themselves.
3. If a power bank accidentally falls or slips into the seat gap, please call a flight attendant immediately. Do not move the seat by yourself, as mechanical extrusion may cause damage or fire.
4. Power banks are not allowed to be placed in the overhead luggage compartments. They should be stored in hand luggage under the front seat in the cabin, or in other designated storage areas such as the seat back pocket.

Consequences of Non-Compliance

If you violate the Civil Aviation Administration's announcement by improperly using a power bank to charge electronic devices or the power bank itself on board, Shandong Airlines will report the incident to the police as an act of in-flight disruption. For any losses caused, Shandong Airlines reserves the right to claim compensation in accordance with the law.
